Created by students at Rice University, the test includes 100 questions that range from innocent childhood activities to more mature and adventurous experiences. The final score, calculated based on the number of experiences checked off, gives an indication of one's purity, with higher scores reflecting fewer experiences. While often taken as a fun challenge among friends, the test also provides an interesting lens through which to view the diverse paths people take in life. It highlights how different life stages and choices shape our individual stories.
